

Keep Off

What is the morality of manipulating small children even before they reach the age where they are legally responsible for their actions?
What is the morality of treating children like consumers and child customers making father figure as dad?
What is the morality of exploiting our deepest sexual sub-textual and journey for commercial purpose?

how and why the human
"gets into" the environment?
Our presence artificial, we are
"stuck" on the world - -

This is me, around 1963.

I can remember hearing on the Home Service, the news that JFK had been assassinated.

It meant that a storm was brewing. We know that now.

It's no wonder I look a little apprehensive.

So much industry hidden beneath the layers of the painting

Like the buried sign in 'Keep off'

The world is buried under water and sand.

All the place is around her, but not sure if she has a recollection of being on a pier/jetty in the past.

Adaptability comes to mind.
